As a participant in Camping Singles (CS) activities, I participate at my own risk and I am responsible for my own safety. If at any time I believe conditions to be unsafe, I will immediately discontinue further participation in the Camping Singles activity.

I am personally responsible to provide for all my costs, insurance and liability coverage associated with travel to and from any and all Camping Singles activities and locations. I assume all risks associated with travel to, during and from Camping Singles activities. I understand that my participation in any carpool or travel arrangements is done at my own risk and at my own discretion.

I am aware that organizer roles in events are strictly limited to facilitate the planning of activity. The Camping Singles organizers or assistant organizers are neither instructors nor experts in hiking, backpacking or first aid and are not responsible to train or provide equipment to any participant to enable them to participate in Camping Singles activities. I am responsible to obtain proper instruction and bring equipment and first aid materials and be adequately experienced on my own prior to participating in any or all Camping Singles activities. I do not hold anyone responsible who let me borrow equipment if it failed to meet expectations or was unsafe. I acknowledge that I have read, understand and will abide by the above terms of this agreement by signing and completing this form.

If a member is concerned about contracting an illness at a camp out, they are welcome to take all necessary precautions; such as, wearing a mask and distancing to protect themselves. If a member is feeling ill, please do not attend a campout until you are well.
